"If proper arrangements are made by District Officers for a monthly verification of their figures with those of the Treasuries, the errors for adjustment in the final accounts will be minimised and there should not be any important variations between the preliminary and final figures of a year on this account."

4. It will be seen from the above-quoted observations of the Comptroller, that while the accounts of a year cannot be finally closed by the Account Department till the following December, there is nothing to prevent the District Officers from verifying their accounts with the Treasury preliminary figures which will be available in the last week of July, and that if the District Officers made a monthly adjustment of their figures with those of the District Treasury, the errors requiring adjustment in the final accounts would be minimised.

5. The Deputy Commissioners of Districts are accordingly requested to adopt these suggestions of the Comptroller in time and submit their reports to this office on or before 1st September of each year, without waiting for final adjustment of accounts.

A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR,
Revenue Commissioner.
